Welcome the new Lab Operations Manager - Tina Dasbach

Tina Dasbach Ph.D., Lab Operations Manager

Tina Dasbach's responsibilities have expanded to include the role of Lab Operations Manager for Savant Labs.

Tina holds a bachelor's degree in Chemistry and her Master of Science and Ph.D. in Chemical Engineering from Wayne State University. Her research interests focused on polymer rheology and molecular modeling. While attending graduate school, Tina spent two summers in General Motors' Fuels and Lubricants Research group.

After working at The Dow Chemical Company for over 22 years in various technical and marketing roles, Tina joined the Savant Group in October 2013 as the Operations Manager for the Institute of Materials (IOM). She continues in her Operations role with IOM where she is managing activities to support the global oil collection and publishing of the annual database.

She is also an active member of STLE and ASTM. Tina is excited to continue our reputation for technical precision to meet customer's needs. You can contact Tina Dasbach at TDasbach@savantgroup.com

Savant Labs Receives NMMA Lab Certification

In 2016, the National Marine Manufacturers Association (NMMA) completed an assessment of Savant Labs. The assessment determined that Savant Labs was accepted as an authorized lab for NMMA oil certification testing.

NMMA certification programs cover many marine products. From boats and trailers to components, NMMA holds these certified products to the highest industry standards. NMMA certification also includes marine oils to help boaters recognize lubricants that will maintain their boat engine's designed performance.

Please contact Savant Labs if you are interested in completing the bench tests for the NMMA TC-W3, FC-W, or FC-W(CAT) specifications.
